Respite

Respite care provides short term breaks that relieve stress, restore energy and promote balance in your life.

While you're away, the respite care attendant may provide a variety of non-medical activities including:

- preparing light meals
- companionship
- supervision
- assistance with other tasks of daily living.

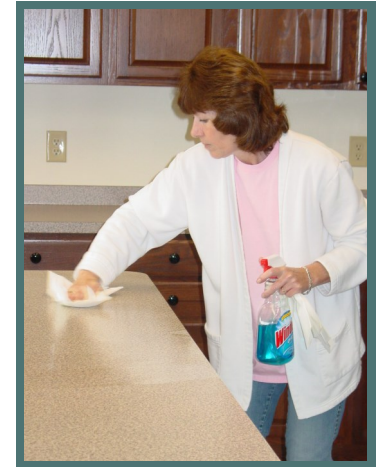

As much as possible, the attendant along with the program coordinator will honor your individual needs and requests within the guidelines of the program.
